PREFACE

THE publishers are confident that the 27th volume of American Book-Prices Current, comprising the sales of 1920-21, will prove to be of unusual value to collectors and dealers. While the season was not marked by the striking and spectacular items of 1919-20, prices were maintained at a satisfactory level, giving assurance of a growing stability in rare book values. Moreover the collections offered a far wider range than those recorded in any previous season.

The number of entries is slightly greater than that of last year. In making a selection of entries from an enormous mass of material, the editors were able to record an unusually large number of first editions and books in original bindings. Owing to the widely varied nature of the collections brought into the market, a large number of titles are recorded which have not appeared in any previous list. The list of Broadsides is unusually full, as it has been possible to include all items sold for more than $5.00, and the list of Manuscripts and Autographs is unusually extensive and varied. A system of cross-references has been introduced which it is believed will prove extremely helpful.

The general market was enriched by the sales, at the Anderson Galleries, of the library of John L. Clawson, whose books were invariably in fine condition and often in the original binding, and the collections of Robert Pariser, and A. J. Drexel. The Pariser collection contained an interesting item—a complete file of "La Libre Belgique," which sold for $1,000.00. The Ornithological collection of Frederic Gallatin, Jr., was perhaps the richest and most valuable ever offered for sale, a set of the works of John Gould bringing $3,800.00, another set selling in the Brewster sale for $3,700.00. The final sales of the collections of the late George D. Smith yielded many interesting items, among them a Kilmarnock Burns at $2,275.00 and a collection of 34 English Year Books, from 1510 to 1669, at $5,200.00.

The Walpole Galleries offered a rich list of works dealing with Japan as well as many first editions and Rare Americana.

At the American Art Galleries, the S. G. Reilly sale of Napoleonana offered much new and valuable material; the library of Charles G. Romm presented an interesting list of Modern Authors in first editions, and a second file of "La Libre Belgique" was sold for $800.00.

As foreshadowed in the sales of the preceding season, the dominating interest was that of Americana. The list of new titles in new fields is unprecedented. The Smith purchase of Americana from the Arbury Library was full of novelties. The collection of Herman Le Roy Edgar sold at Anderson's contained, among numerous items of great interest, a remarkably rich assortment of books on witchcraft, the 1603 edition of Champlain's Voyages, which brought $3,350.00, and a set of Jesuit Relations, said to be the most complete ever offered for sale, which brought $11,000.00.

The collection of Mrs. W. M. Brickner contained a number of important and rare items as did also that of William Loring Andrews, the latter offering a particularly fine copy of the "Bradford Map." At the American Art Association the Library of the late J. H. Trumbull contained a copy of the rare "Declaration of the Gentlemen, Merchants, etc., of the Town of Boston" which sold for $1,300.00, besides much material of New England and especially Connecticut interest. The Henry N. Moeller collection also contained many rare and important items. The year's sales offered an unusual opportunity to collectors of regional literature. The second part of the collection of Dr. Frank O'Brien sold at Anderson's contained, besides a good general list, a large number of unique early Western items, interesting personal narratives and early books of statute law and court decisions. The O. A. Hawkins library supplied much new material relating mainly to Virginia. The year's sales yielded a number of early American Almanacs which have been conveniently listed under a single heading.

Mr. C. F. Heartman conducted some exceedingly interesting sales of Americana, one of books and pamphlets connected with California. Mr. Stan. V. Henkels, in the sale of the libraries of Dr. Jesse Green and others, contributed much important Pennsylvania material. Mr. Henkels also offered several law libraries, one of them of distinct Pennsylvania interest.

The Section devoted to Manuscripts and Autographs, covering over 100 pages, is of notable variety and importance. The outstanding features were at the American Art Galleries, "The Peace Conference Agenda," autographed by the various leaders of the Conference, and "The Fatherless Children of France: Their Book," beautifully bound, which sold for $10,000.00.

Mr. Stan. V. Henkels offered a long list of Autographic rarities, among them Commander Stewart's Log-Book of the Constitution, selling for $425.00, and a series of letters of Lafcadio Hearn. The Brickner-Wilmerding Collection at Anderson's contained an autograph note of Button Gwinnett, which sold for $1,025.00. The Baxter collection of Thackeray's Letters, also sold at Anderson's, brought excellent prices. The Brewster collection contained numerous Poe items, and a sale of the Manuscripts, Documents and Letters of Robert Fulton was notable even in a season of novelties.

As the volume may come into the hands of some persons not familiar with the work, the following explanation of the scheme of this work and the abbreviations used, is reprinted from the earlier issues.

The name of the author (or, in the case of anonymous books, the first part of the title) is set in black-faced capitals.

Club or Press publications are (generally) under the Club or Press, and a few other books, such as anonymous histories and biographies, are entered under their subject. The titles of the various works of an author, printed in black-faced lower case type, are arranged in alphabetical order. This is followed by the place where printed, the printer (in a few cases), the date, and size of the volume. The first portion of the description is general and applies to all copies of the work. Following this general description is the specific description of the copy or copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line. This specific description is made up as follows:

First. A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second. A statement as to the condition of the particular copy recorded, if on large paper, with extra plates inserted, from a famous library, etc.

Third. The name of the sale, where a name was given on the catalogue. This does not mean in every case that the name as given is that of the owner of the book, as additions from other unannounced sources are often included with books of a known owner.

Fourth. Capital letter, indicating the name of the auctioneer under whose management the sale took place.

A. is the Anderson Galleries.
B. is Charles F. Heartman.
G. is the American Art Association.
H. is Stan. V. Henkels.
W. is the Walpole Galleries.

Fifth. The date of the sale. In case of the sales of more than a single day's duration, this date is that of the first day of the sale.

Sixth. The lot number in the original sale catalogue.

Seventh. The price realized. This is the price for the lot, not per volume.
